ICT FEVER HITS UKM

Fair Proves to be a Hit with Students by Reuben Gumal

The UKM ICT Fair '07 which was held at the main entrance of the Pusanika building at Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia drew in a sizeable crowd estimated to be over 3000-plus students. The five-day event, held from the 23rd – 27th July 2007 had PC.com as its main sponsor alongside Mobile Raiders, who held numerous activities such as 3G and photo printing demonstrations. They also conducted surveys and seminars among the excited students. Besides promoting our cutting-edge magazine to the UKM students, the fair also took on the responsibility of informing the attendees of the latest happenings in the ICT world. The highlight of the fair was undoubtedly the gaming competition with the lucky winner walking away with a SMART notebook sponsored by MIMOS Computing. 📖
